We recently found an Alpaca farm which upon arrival we saw the most horrific and sickening situation. There were at least that 25 Alpacas were in need of a new home; My Saddle Brook Farm adopted them. There are at least another 70 Alpacas in danger of dying from starvation; they are merely skin and bones at this point. It is unknown to us when their last proper meal of grain was, and their hay is so rotten that it is not even considered suitable for bedding. They have been neglected to such a state that their teeth are so long they cannot even close their mouths. Their hooves are so long, they have difficulty walking. They are need of immediate food and veterinary care. We know that you are just as concerned as we are and appreciate that you are interested in sponsoring or adopting one of these adorable gifts from nature.

Please check below whether or not you would like to sponsor or adopt an Alpaca (or both!?).

I would like to sponsor an Alpaca!

Sponsorship of an Alpaca is for a small fee of $20 per month. Sponsored Alpacas will remain at My Saddle Brook Farm and will be provided the upmost care. As a sponsor, you will have unlimited access to your Alpaca and have the choice to name it! This is a wonderful low-cost opportunity to make a difference!

I would like to adopt an Alpaca!

Adopting an Alpaca requires you to take your new family addition to your own premises (permanent or temporary board at My Saddle Brook Farm is also available for an additional cost). You assume full responsibility for all care of the animal as it is now yours. New owners of these animals will be required to pick up their Alpaca within seven days of notice that it has arrived at our farm. After seven days, boarding fees will apply.

If you would like to board your Alpaca at My Saddle Brook Farm for the cost of $100 per month, check this box.
